

DOMINIQUE NICOLE

Dominique Nicole is a Model, Actress, Fashion Designer, Motivational Speaker, and Corporate Executive. Destiny began to take its place in humble beginnings in the life of this St. Louis, Missouri native when this business-woman climbed the corporate ladder to become one of the top producing Oncology Account Executives in Myriad Genetic Laboratories. Dedication, determination, desire to do her absolute best, and her success in the corporate world provided the necessary skills and training to launch her own business, SASSO, an exotic stone jewelry line. Dominique's passion for stone jewelry came forth when God showed her how the imperfections in the stones created its uniqueness, design, and beauty. Her mission is to help create a positive self image in the lives of individuals. Therefore, a percentage of the proceeds from SASSO will go to non-profit organizations, such as Cancer Awareness, that promote education for women and young girls to better themselves.

Photographer- Bill Moore
Make up Artist- Jon Kervin

Dominique is proud to represent the color Brown for the For Colored Girls Host Committee. She believes “your true beauty is revealed in the midst of your imperfections”. Her testimony is simple, “We are all fearfully and wonderfully made by the Master Designer, God. So love yourself and others the way Christ has loved YOU”.

“BE REAL, SMILE, LAUGH, and LOVE.....”