Her affiliations and memberships with several organizations and non profit groups such as Newnan Chamber of Commerce, The Japanese Association, and the Georgia Motor Coach Association of Georgia has given her the support needed to build upon her desires of one day being a very sought after meeting and event planner. She is a strong leader and mentor to children of drug abused parents and work very closely with Children Have Voices, a non profit organization founded to assist young adults seventeen years and older with the tools and tangibles needed to live and lead a quality Christian life. Rebecca lives by a quote from: Marcus Aurelius: "It's not death that a man should fear, but he should fear never beginning to live.

Rebecca is proud to represent the Color Blue for the For Colored Girls Host Committee. Not only is it her favorite color, but for her it symbolizes: calmness, restfulness, universal uniqueness and overall, the strengths that we possess as women.
